

Oreo Campaign

Yubeen Choi

Project overview

This project explored Oreo's market position and evolving consumer behavior to identify marketing opportunities that strengthen brand relevance and emotional engagement.

Market Environment Analysis

The U.S. snack market continues to grow, but consumer decision-making is becoming more complex.
However, consumers are no longer choosing snacks based only on taste.
They increasingly consider:

- Price & affordability
- Ingredients & nutrition
- Lifestyle alignment
- Overall value

Campaign Objectives

Challenge

Oreo has remained one of the most recognizable cookie brands through its iconic design, memorable taste, and signature ritual: “Twist, Lick, Dunk.”

However,

As consumers become more selective with their spending and increasingly aware of health and lifestyle choices, Oreo must strengthen its value beyond being simply a sweet snack.

Campaign Goal: Strengthen Oreo’s Emotional Connection and Encourage Everyday Indulgence

1. Reinforce Oreo's iconic "Twist, Lick, Dunk" ritual as a unique and personalized eating experience.
2. Increase purchase consideration by positioning Oreo as an affordable everyday indulgence.
3. Strengthen consumers' emotional connection with Oreo through moments of comfort and nostalgia.

SMART GOAL

Increase Oreos overall market shares from 8.5% to at least 9% by the end of this fiscal year 2026.

Strategy Statement

Promotional Objective #1:

Strengthen the perception that Oreos provide a unique, interactive eating experience that enhances creativity and encourages personalized enjoyment.

Promotional Objective #2:

Drive consideration that Oreos are an affordable indulgence, providing an accessible escape from everyday pressures.

Strategy Statement:

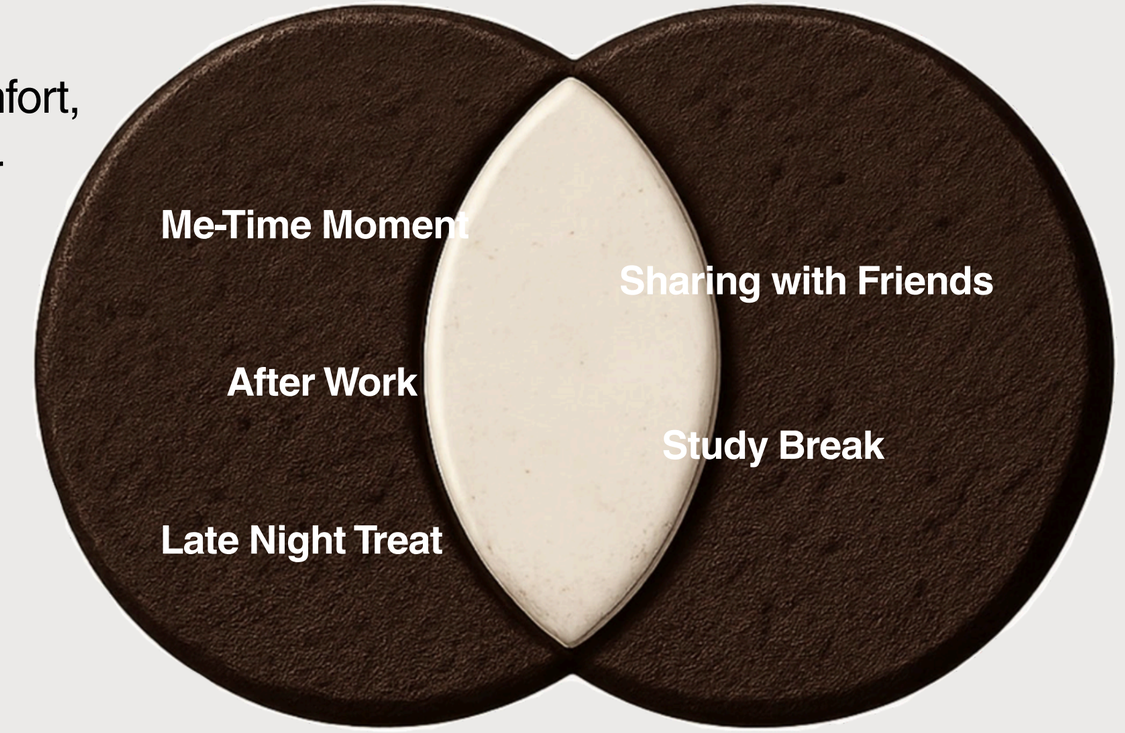

Indulge in Oreos, where an affordable bite helps you escape from daily pressures through a unique interactive experience, transforming your everyday breaks into personal moments of comfort.

Big Idea

Ritual as Identity

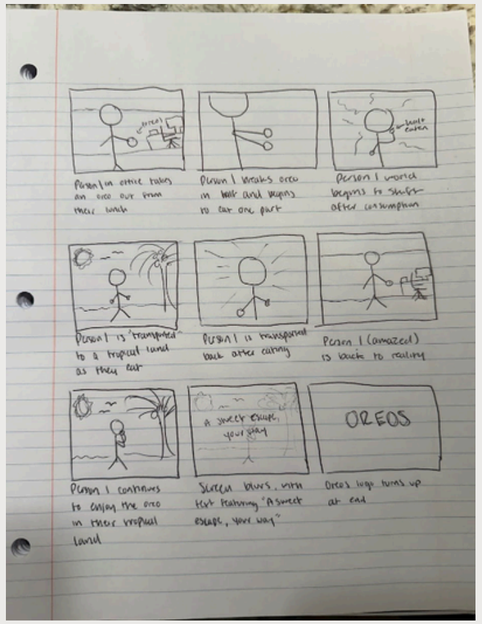

Every Oreo begins with the same ritual - but every consumer makes it their own.

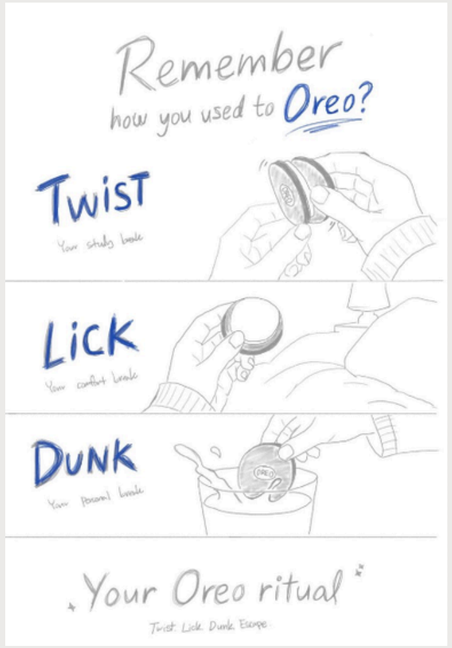

Oreo’s iconic ritual becomes a personal expression of comfort, allowing consumers to create meaningful moments in their everyday lives.

Creative Execution

Traditional Ads

Emails. Deadlines. Notifications. Another thing to do... (sighs)
[SFX: Everything abruptly pauses — silence]
[SFX: Over-exaggerated crisp Oreo twist sound — cookie separating]
Narrator (calmer, softer): "Or… you could take a second."
[SFX: Light, nostalgic music fades in — playful, childlike tone]
[SFX: Cream bite, soft crunch]
Narrator (gentle, inviting): "Break it… Taste it… Escape."
